

Anti-social behaviour is a widespread problem, which can severely disrupt communities and if left unchecked can lead to neighbourhood decline. As a result, Spitalfields Housing Association is committed to tackling anti-social behaviour promptly to ensure that our residents can enjoy their homes and the surrounding environment fully. Our focus is hinged on promoting prevention in partnership with our tenants, combating racial harassment, adopting a multi-agency approach, enforcing tenancy obligations and taking legal action to evict persistent perpetrators.

We will use a variety of methods in our attempts to resolve ASB including acceptable behaviour contracts, anti-social behaviour orders, mediation, injunctions and ultimately evictions. Best practice within the industry will inform our continuous improvement programme.

Anti-social behaviour control unit (ASBCU)

The Anti-Social Behaviour Control Unit (ASBCU) comprises various specialist teams tackling anti-social behaviour, racial harassment and domestic violence.

The Anti-Social Behaviour team provides support, advice and ongoing training to all agencies involved in dealing with anti-social behaviour. The ASBCU is also responsible for the co-ordination of RHIAF (Racial Harassment Development Agency Forum) and THMAAARI (Tower Hamlets Multi-Agency Action Against Racist Incidents).

The unit is responsible for developing practices and procedures pertaining to anti-social behaviour, and to represent the interest of the authority in terms of policy development and project initiatives.

Neighbourhood watch

It is widely accepted that neighbourhood watch schemes are effective in reducing and preventing crime in those areas where they are operating. The Association will also provide a single united voice for the neighbourhood watch membership within the community safety partnership. Membership to a neighbourhood watch entitles you to a discount on your home insurance.
